PART I—GENERAL.

1.—Policy.

I took charge of this department from Khan Bahadur A. M. Arshad Ali who retired on the 1st of January 1941. Some aspects of policy are reviewed below :—

Agricultural Credit: (i) Frozen debts.—

The agricultural credit movement continued to give anxiety to the department and to absorb most of its attention. The position briefly is that a number of Central Banks are unable to meet their commitments to depositors, a large number cannot even meet the cost of their establishment without drawing upon their capital. Such has been the case now for some years. If the year is good and their collections improve these banks show signs of revival; when crops are below normal or prices are low they revert to stagnation. In the past various expedients have been tried to liquify the frozen assets of these banks. Repeated concessions have been given to the members by way of remission of arrear interest due and in some cases even of part of the principal in the hope of stimulating repayments. These concessions generally failed to achieve their purpose, as indeed any concession which does not take into consideration the actual repaying capacity of the debtor must fail. A concession to be effective must be based on the actual repaying capacity of the debtor. If frozen debts are to be thawed they must be reduced to an amount which the members of the societies can pay. Nothing short of this will suffice. Unfortunately many of the Central Banks have not yet sufficiently grasped this cardinal fact and still look upon debt settlement boards set up to reduce debts to an amount which the members would be actually able to pay with disfavour and suspicion.

It is becoming increasingly clear that the agricultural credit movement in this Province has reached a stage when no mere tinkering will suffice. No measures that do not go to the root of its troubles will help to revive and rehabilitate it. The Co-operative Societies Act of 1940 which will come into force shortly will go to solve some of the administrative difficulties and enable societies more effectively to deal with recalcitrant members or wilful defaulters and to prevent a repetition of mistakes that were committed in the past. But the fate of the Central Banks is bound up largely with their ability to liquify and recover the loans now lying frozen in their societies. Any scheme for rehabilitating them must therefore concern itself primarily with the problem of these loans. The most important thing obviously is to ascertain how far these loans are recoverable; in other words, what is the amount that the members can actually repay and what are their assets. Not until this is ascertained will it be possible to devise any satisfactory rehabilitation scheme to set these banks on their feet. It is with this end in view that Co-operative Debt Settlement Boards have been set up. They will not only facilitate the recovery of these loans by reducing them to an amount which the members can pay, but will also furnish the Central Banks valuable data as to the reality of their assets, data which, as pointed out above, are essential to the framing and execution of any rehabilitation scheme.

It is essential that this examination of the repaying capacity of individual members should be conducted with the greatest possible speed. Unfortunately the work of the Central Bank Debt Settlement Boards now working has been slow. Steps have been taken to remedy this defect and proposals involving a large increase in the number of these boards have been submitted to Government.

But matters will not be left at that. It is intended meantime to reconstruct agricultural credit societies and to introduce other changes calculated to strengthen their financial position and improve their working. Proposals to this effect have recently been submitted to Government. Some of these proposals are far-reaching and somewhat unorthodox in character but, as stated above, the agricultural credit movement has come to a stage where it demands a realistic recognition and handling of its problems.

(ii) Short-term loans.—It is necessary to revise some of our ideas about the demand for short-time loans and the manner in which it could best be met. It is difficult to estimate the extent to which private supplies of rural credit have shrunk. But it is almost certain, however, that the shrinkage is not as great as is generally assumed. For in no year throughout the depression when the cultivators were unable to repay loans already contracted and creditors unwilling to lend or even after the setting up of debt settlement boards and the passing of other debt legislation, making money-lending less remunerative, than previously, has any considerable portion of the land remained uncultivated for lack of necessary finance in any part of the Province. This fact goes to show that there has been no serious shortage of credit in so far as the basic requirements of the agricultural population are concerned. It appears that money-lenders are still issuing short-term loans on the personal credit of the borrower though this type of lending is not on anything like the scale on which it went on before the depression set in. In this connection it may be noted that loans incurred after the 1st of January 1940 have been excluded from the operation of Debt Settlement Boards. Further, the restrictions imposed by the Money-Lenders' Act will ordinarily operate only when a debtor seeks the help of a Court. Debtors who can be trusted not to force the creditor to a civil court or who are unable to do so, can be and are in fact being advanced short-term loans by money-lenders on personal security as in the past. The majority of the cultivators, however, can obtain the necessary finance only by selling or pledging property and it is because of this that while improvident borrowing has largely disappeared the demand for assistance from Government or co-operative societies has become insistent.

Obviously Government cannot meet the requirements of the entire agricultural population a simple fact but one which people in this Province are inclined to overlook in their anxiety to help agricultural debtors or in their zeal for reforming the machinery of rural credit. To finance agriculture we must harness private capital. It is necessary therefore to devote increasing attention not to passing legislation likely to restrict or destroy private supplies of rural credit in the hope that the deficiency so caused will be supplied by Government but to improving the working of and strengthening credit societies so that private capital may begin to reflow into them and through them to the cultivators generally. Till it does so the necessity for Government to place funds at the disposal of co-operative societies for short-term loans will continue. But the supply of credit by Government should not be looked upon as an end in itself.

While it is the aim of this department to bring within the ambit of co-operative credit every cultivator who needs loans for agricultural operations as rapidly as possible it has been found necessary to strike a note of caution in the matter of organising new societies. In the years 1939 and 1940 some 13,000 societies were organised and it appears that in their anxiety to help cultivators obtain cultivation loans organisers have at times preferred to achieve speedy results rather than sound organisation. Departmental officers have been warned that new crop loan societies should be organised only where there is a genuine and spontaneous demand for such societies from the cultivators and that while such demand should be met as speedily as possible under no circumstances should organisation be undertaken hastily or the mistakes committed in the past repeated.

On the whole the present system of issuing crop loans has so far been successful. In 1939-40 (financial year) some Rs. 20 lakhs was so issued (Rs. 13½ lakhs from Government and the rest by the Provincial Bank out of its own funds) and fully recovered. In 1940-41 (financial year) Rs. 45½ lakhs was issued as crop loans of which Rs. 40.12 lakhs was recovered in cash. The occurrence of this default is disquieting but it is ascribable generally to the disastrous fall in the demand for and the price of jute that year and the failure of crops in certain areas. Government have provided Rs. 60 lakhs in the budget for 1941-42, of this about Rs. 44 lakhs had been issued by the middle of September 1941.

The working of this system has, however, disclosed certain shortcomings. Firstly, it has become necessary to secure closer co-operation of the District Officers to avoid overlapping of finance, that is, (1) to prevent agriculturists from borrowing simultaneously from co-operative societies and from the district authorities, and (2) to ensure that wilful defaulters to whom crop loans are refused as a disciplinary measure do not obtain agricultural loans. Proposals to this effect have recently been put up to Government. Secondly, contrary to the expectations originally entertained, in the majority of the Central Banks the issue of these loans has adversely affected their financial position. When in 1939 Government decided to place funds at the disposal of the Provincial Bank for the issue of short-term cultivation loans to cultivators through co-operative societies they intended thereby not merely to help them to finance agricultural operations for which credit was otherwise difficult to obtain but expected that these loans would go to revive the agricultural credit movement generally. It was hoped that the issue of these loans through Central Banks would enable and encourage members to repay their old debts in an increasing measure and would at the same time leave these banks with some profit on short-term loan transactions. The expectation has not always been fulfilled. So far from improving recoveries of old loans, the issue of short-term loans has in the case of many banks had the effect of reducing them, partly because the collecting staff of the banks devoted its attention primarily to the collection of short-term loans and collection of old loans fell into the background, and partly because members seemed to think that in order to obtain crop loans again it was necessary to repay only the crop loans due and that it was no longer essential to repay old loans. Every effort is being made to disabuse their minds of this impression and to impress on the staff the necessity of treating the collection of old loans as of equal importance to that of crop loans. Further, it appears that a number of Central Banks have lost rather than gained by undertaking the issue of crop loans: their cost of collecting these loans has exceeded the profit derived from this business. It seems that if this business is to pay, Central Banks and the societies affiliated to them may have to raise the rates of interest charged on these loans. The matter is being considered by Government.

(iii) Medium-term loans.—Co-operative societies are as a rule confining themselves to issuing short-term loans not exceeding Rs. 25 per member, the actual amount is in most cases much less being determined by the requirements of each member and by his repaying capacity. Agricultural purposes for which medium-term loans are necessary are not covered by these loans. It is admitted that there is a considerable demand for medium-term loans for purposes such as purchase of cattle, ploughs and other agricultural implements. In view, however, of our past experience in respect of medium-term loans it is not intended to advise societies to issue such loans until the whole credit movement has been put on a sounder footing. In any case how far this business can be undertaken will depend on the extent to which private capital will be willing despite past experience to finance co-operative societies for this purpose and this in its turn will depend on the extent to which these societies can be reconstructed so as to command public confidence.

(iv) Long-term loans.—Long-term credit is being increasingly left to land mortgage banks to supply. Five Land Mortgage Banks have been working in this Province for the last 6 to 7 years. It is proposed to set up another 5 as soon as the question of financing them for which proposals have been submitted to Government is settled. The working of the existing banks however shows that there is perhaps not as great a demand or scope for long-term credit at the present time as is generally supposed. By June 1941, that is, during nearly 7 years of their working, these banks had received applications for loans amounting to only Rs. 30.56 lakhs. Of these applications for loans amounting to Rs. 11.55 lakhs only could be accepted; others had to be rejected owing to insufficiency of title or of the security offered.

Loans amounting to Rs. 8.53 lakhs had been actually advanced till then and it is of interest to note that about 91 per cent. of these loans were for the redemption of mortgages and prior debts. Only about Rs. 7,000 was borrowed for the improvement of land or the method of cultivation.

There are however several factors which have impeded the progress of these banks. These are discussed later in the report. The most important perhaps is that the banks were able to secure a comparatively small reduction in the claims of the creditors and that the loans issued by them carry interest at 8 per cent. This has led many prospective borrowers to seek instead the facilities offered by debt settlement boards which secure larger reductions in the claims of the creditors and whose awards generally carry no interest. Steps have been taken to revive and improve the working of the Land Mortgage Bank Debt Settlement Boards and instructions have been issued that every application for loan should in the first instance go to this board for settlement before the bank can sanction the loan. This procedure will enable the bank to secure a greater reduction in the claims of the creditors in so far as the Debt Settlement Board has powers to deal with recalcitrant creditors which a land mortgage bank has not and should help thereby to popularise these banks.

Co-operative Marketing.—Particular attention is being devoted to the linking of agricultural credit with marketing. A considerable part of the crop loans issued in 1940-41 was realised in kind through the multi-purpose (marketing) societies specially those at Parbatipur, Hili and Pulhat in the district of Dinajpur. Very little, unfortunately, of the old loans was so realised. Increasing attention is being devoted to co-operative marketing and during the last 3 years some 33 multi-purpose societies had been brought into being, of which 22 were registered comparatively recently. In the year 1939-40 the Provincial Bank financed these societies to the extent of Rs. 2.60 lakhs and in 1940-41 the loans issued by it to these societies amounted to Rs. 4.81 lakhs. The entire amount was recovered punctually. I inspected a number of these societies to study their methods of work and to devise means whereby co-operative marketing could be further developed. Detailed instructions have since been issued to rectify defects noticed in their working and a scheme has been submitted to Government for the expansion of co-operative marketing in the Province.

2.—Administration.

The post of a Deputy Registrar remained vacant throughout the year. Khan Bahadur Choudhury Afsar Ali held the second post of Deputy Registrar. Babu Krishna Ballav Pal Choudhury, Chief Auditor, resigned in February 1941 and Babu Sushil Chandra Lahiri, Divisional Auditor, was appointed to this post pending direct recruitment. Opportunity has since been taken to make the pay and prospects of this important post more attractive.

There were 16 Assistant Registrars besides the Assistant Registrar in charge of Industrial societies. They were on tour on an average for 161 days each during the year. They have been instructed to devote greater attention to the rural credit societies and to the working of Co-operative Debt Settlement Boards.

The total number of Inspectors was 136 against the sanctioned strength of 149 including 31 temporary posts. Sixteen of these Inspectors were employed exclusively on running audit and 2 were employed as Instructors at the Dum Dum Co-operative Training institute.

The strength of the audit staff remained the same as in the previous year, being 273. This is exclusive of 4 Auditors employed as Instructors at the Training Institute, 21 Auditors employed in the peripatetic instructional units for training the Secretaries of rural societies and 5 Auditors employed as Managers of Land Mortgage Banks. Of the 273 Auditors in the general line, 32 were employed for the audit of Central and bigger Urban Banks.

Forty-two posts of Assistant Auditors were created during the year of which only 18 had been filled by the end of the year. Vacancies in the posts of Inspectors, Auditors and Assistant Auditors will be filled as soon as the candidates selected complete the training which they are now undergoing.

The present condition of the agricultural credit movement, the issue and recovery of crop loans, the recovery of the old loans of Central Banks, the organisation and working of marketing societies and the working of Co-operative Debt Settlement Boards have imposed onerous duties on the Inspectors, Auditors and Assistant Auditors, duties which do not normally fall within the sphere of their responsibilities, and have made their charges extremely heavy. Each Auditor's and Assistant Auditor's charge consists on an average of as many as 132 societies. Proposals made to Government for the re-organisation of these societies would help to lighten these charges.

Audit fee.—Rupees 4·87 lakhs was assessed as audit fees for the year. The total demand for the year was Rs. 14·32 lakhs inclusive of arrears from previous years amounting to Rs. 9·45 lakhs. Only Rs. 2·97 lakhs was actually realised. The expenditure incurred for maintenance of the audit staff during the year was Rs. 5·19 lakhs of which only Rs. 2·87 lakhs was payable from the audit cess realised, the balance was debited to provincial revenue being on account of anti-malarial and infant societies (societies under 18 months old). Thus although the collection of audit cess was extremely unsatisfactory, the cost of audit staff payable out of audit fees was covered leaving a surplus of Rs. 10 lakhs which was credited to the Audit Cess Fund which stood at Rs. 9·30 lakhs at the close of the year. This fund originally amounted to Rs. 10·36 lakhs and was created out of surplus collections during the years 1917-18 and 1934-35. Since then the staff has been greatly increased and collection of audit fees which has been consistently bad for many years has failed to meet even the cost of the staff every year except during the year under review. The whole system of levying and collecting these fees requires overhauling. This question has been gone into and proposals including remission of unrealisable arrears and a more equitable distribution of the burden of audit fees as between agricultural and urban societies are now under detailed examination. Instructions for ensuring better collection have been issued.

Supervisors.—The number of Supervisors employed by the Central Banks rose to 740 from 677 employed during the previous year. The pay and prospects of the Supervisors as well as the qualifications of the persons now employed by the Central Banks leave much to be desired and this fact is reflected in the poor quality of the work of the Supervisors generally and the deterioration in the condition of the societies entrusted to their care. This matter is now receiving attention.

Number of societies.—The total number of all classes of societies rose from 37,439 to 40,413, and increase of 7.9 per cent. against 21.8 per cent. of the previous year. The number of Central Banks remained the same. The number of agricultural credit societies increased also by 7.8 per cent. accounted for by the increase in the number of crop loan societies.

Membership.—The total number of individual members of all classes of societies rose from 1,142,476 to 1,298,807 an increase of 13.6 per cent. against 19.6 per cent. of the previous year. The increase in membership is not appreciable having regard to the increase in the number of societies.

Working capital.—The constitution of the working capital of the societies as on the 30th June is noted below :—

Progress of Agricultural societies from 1931-32 to 1940-41.

Scale :—

- 1 Division .. 3,000 societies.
- 1 „ .. 1 lakh members.
- 1 „ .. Rs. 20 lakhs Reserved Fund.
- 1 „ .. Rs. 100 lakhs working capital.

Progress of Non-Agricultural societies from 1931-32 to 1940-41.

Scale:—

- 2 Divisions .. 1,000 societies.
 2 „ .. 1 lakh members.
 1 Division .. Rs. 5 lakhs of Reserve Fund.
 1 „ .. Rs. 100 lakhs of working capital.

The total working capital of all classes of societies rose from 2,127.92 lakhs to 2,140.15 lakhs, the percentage of increase being .5. Societies which contributed to this increase are the Provincial Bank, the Producers Unions, Land Mortgage Banks, agricultural sale societies, non-agricultural credit societies, fishermen societies and the insurance societies. Working capital of all other classes of societies has noticeably decreased. Many of the old agricultural primary credit societies have been virtually in a process of winding up for the last few years. Loans due by members of these societies are being recovered and as a rule new loans are not being advanced to such members. Assets of the members in these societies in the shape of deposits, shares, etc., are also being increasingly set off against their dues. These factors explain the progressive fall in their working capital and why the working capital of these societies has not increased even when there has been a considerable increase in the number of societies and members.

Overdues.—In spite of considerable transactions in loan accounts there was no fall in the percentage of overdues to total outstanding loans due by members in agricultural societies. There was however a slight fall in the percentage of overdues of capital in non agricultural societies.

The following statement shows the percentage of overdues to loans due by members in agricultural and non-agricultural societies.

		Agricultural societies.			Non-agricultural societies.
		Loans due by members individuals (in lakhs).	Of which overdue (in lakhs).	Percentage of overdue.	Loans due by members individuals (in lakhs).	Of which overdue (in lakhs).	Percentage of overdue.
1939-40	373.48	328.76	88	536.05	65.30	12.1
1940-41	365.61	332.80	91	567.23	65.22	11.4

It is satisfactory to note that the percentage of overdues in non agricultural societies showed some reduction but there is a disquietingly persistent increase in the percentage of overdues in agricultural societies. There is little likelihood of any substantial improvement in the latter respect as long as the old debts are not scaled down to an amount within the capacity of the debtors to pay. No concessions short of this will serve to "unfreeze" these debts.

Owned capital.—While the percentage of the owned capital of the societies to their total working capital has slightly risen in case of the Provincial Bank, Central Banks, Producers, Unions, Central Anti-malarial Society and Agricultural Societies, it has slightly fallen in the case of the land mortgage banks and non-agricultural societies. The decrease in the case of land mortgage banks is negligible, the percentage being 8.7 per cent. against 9.2 per cent of the previous year and calls for no comment. The decrease in the case of the non-agricultural societies is accounted for by the transfer of some societies from the "Relief" to the "Insurance" group due to the operation of the new Insurance Act and is therefore more apparent than real.

Members' and non-members' deposits.—The statement below shows the relation between deposits by members and non-members in agricultural and non-agricultural societies :—

Agricultural societies. Deposits by—					Non-agricultural societies. Deposits by—
	Members (lakhs).	Percentage.	Non-members (lakhs).	Percentage.	Members (lakhs).	Percentage.	Non-members (lakhs).	Percentage.
1939-40	..	18.92	59.1	13.10	40.9	163.41	39.6	251.43	60.6
1940-41	..	11.11	45.3	13.40	54.6	157.83	36.3	275.66	63.6

In both agricultural and non-agricultural societies there has been during the last few years a continued decrease in the deposits held by members. The decrease in the deposits of members of agricultural societies is not, however, the result of any large scale withdrawals but is the result of paper adjustments against amounts due to these societies from the members. Non-members' deposits in agricultural societies have remained almost constant owing, I fear, largely to the inability of these societies to repay matured deposits. There has been, on the otherhand, a steady and welcome increase in the deposits of non-members in non-agricultural societies.

Purposes of loans issued.—A statement showing the classification of loans disbursed to individuals during the year by agricultural societies of all classes (excluding Land Mortgage Bank) according to their objects is furnished below :—

*N. B.—Rs. .10 lakhs in 1939-40 and Rs. .11 lakhs in 1940-41 were so disbursed in the Midnapore division alone.

In conformity with the existing departmental policy these societies have confined themselves largely to short-term loans: medium-term and long-term lending is on the decrease and is comparatively negligible. Long-term loans for such purposes as purchase of land are being rightly left more and more for the Land Mortgage Banks to undertake. It is a happy sign, further, that borrowing for unproductive purposes has practically stopped. It is necessary, however, to point out that these results are due very largely to the inability of these societies to find the funds wherewith to finance objects for which long and medium term loans are needed. The short-term loans were issued from the funds advanced by Government to the Central Banks through the Provincial Bank, whereas for medium and long term loans these societies had to depend on their own resources.

Agricultural conditions.

Throughout the presidency rainfall in July 1940 was greatly below normal but the deficiency was made good in August and September. Transplantation of "aman" paddy was delayed but was on the whole satisfactory. From October onwards however there was very little rainfall with the consequence that the growth of winter paddy as well as "rabi" crops seriously suffered particularly in the highland tracts of West and North Bengal. On the other hand the whole of the Contai Subdivision of the Midnapore district suffered from severe floods which did extensive damage to standing crops. During the months of April, May and June the southern part of the Chittagong Sadar Subdivision saw disaster from abnormally heavy rain and flood. Finally great havoc was caused in May when a terrific cyclone of unprecedented severity swept over the Bhola, Perojpur and Barisal (Sadar) Subdivisions, the Noakhali Sadar subdivision and the adjoining areas of the Tippera district. In the Bhola and Sadar Subdivisions of the Bakarganj district great damage was done to crops and supari trees and many people were rendered homeless and destitute.

Bhadoi crops (excepting jute).—Rainfall was sufficient in May and June 1940 but was scanty later. This was a bad year for bhadoi crops.

Jute.—In May and June 1940 the condition of the jute crop appeared to be satisfactory and widespread showers alternating with occasional sunshine favoured late sowings and growth. In July and succeeding months however the weather was unfavourable in North and East Bengal and drought or insufficient rainfall arrested the growth of the plants. Only the olitorious tracts in west Bengal were favoured with intermittent showers and sunshine and fared better.

All over Bengal there was a remarkable scarcity of steeping water and this had an adverse effect on the quality of the jute fibre.

Aman (winter) paddy.—Deficiency of rainfall became very marked in July with the result that although fields and seed beds had been prepared, transplantation was retarded in parts of North and West Bengal. Showers in August and September improved crop prospects but insufficient rain in October retarded the growth of the plants and the outturn in the province was well below normal.

Other crops were similarly affected. The weather was favourable in the beginning for the cultivation of sugarcane but the drought and insect pests damaged the crop in certain districts though the total outturn was on the whole satisfactory. Climatic conditions were generally satisfactory for cotton except in the districts of Bankura and Midnapore. The growth of "rabi" crops throughout the province was adversely affected by the drought and the outturn was sub-normal.

What with the effects of the drought on the outturn of crops and the collapse in the price of jute, agriculturists, particularly in the predominantly jute districts, had a bad year. The prices of paddy rose abnormally towards the end of the year but by that time the majority of the agriculturists had parted with their stocks and this rise in price so far from benefiting them considerably added to their difficulties. Distress prevailed in parts of Bankura, Malda, Faridpur, Burdwan, Murshidabad and Midnapore districts and scarcity had to be declared in Birbhum. The terrific cyclone referred to above rendered many people homeless and destitute in parts of Noakhali, Bakarganj and Tippera districts. In all these places except Midnapore relief measures were in operation.

The adverse factors touched upon above naturally added to the difficulties of the agricultural credit movement and retarded its growth and recovery.

PART III—WORKING OF SOCIETIES.

(i) Credit Societies.

The Bengal Provincial Co-operative Bank, Ltd.—The number of members—all societies—rose from 179 to 184 during the year and its paid-up share capital from Rs. 18·68 lakhs to 19·40 lakhs. The following table shows the progress of the bank:—

The working capital of the bank was Rs. 2·89 crores against Rs. 2·88 crores in the preceding year. There was a fall of Rs. 6½ lakhs in fixed deposits but deposits as a whole decreased only by Rs. 3 lakhs owing to increase under savings and current deposits.

Fresh advances by way of ordinary loans contracted to Rs. 1·44 lakhs against Rs. 3·26 lakhs of the previous year. Repayments from Central Banks were not satisfactory due to unfavourable agricultural conditions. 66·9 per cent. of the old loans became overdue against 60·1 per cent. at the end of the previous year. The increase in overdues is causing anxiety. The question is bound up largely with the question of recovering old loans from the individual members of the Central Banks indebted to it and has to be tackled at the root. The bank continued to enjoy from its bankers overdraft accommodation of Rs. 33·86 lakhs on the security of Government promissory notes, etc. The amount drawn at the end of the year was Rs. 27·28 lakhs.

The bank earned a net profit of Rs. 2·13 lakhs as against Rs. 76 lakhs, of the previous year. The increase is largely due to the decrease in interest payable to depositors owing to withdrawals and decrease in rates of interest.

Central Co-operative Banks.—The number of Central Banks remained 121 as in the preceding year. The following table gives figures for two years relating to the working of these banks:—

The fate of the Central Banks is bound up with the fate of the societies affiliated to them— an obvious fact but often lost sight of. The number of members, paid up share capital, reserve and other funds, showed a satisfactory increase during the year. The increase in the number of members and share capital is due largely to the setting up of new crop loan societies. The fall in deposits from Rs. 243.63 lakhs to Rs. 232.81 lakhs is due principally to the fact that a large number of Central Banks have, owing to their inability to refund matured deposits, forfeited the confidence of the depositors. There is on the other hand an increase in deposits from societies. The working capital shows a decrease and out of Rs. 546.52 lakhs, Rs. 332.65 lakhs or 60 per cent. consists of loans to societies.

A statement showing the issue and repayment of loans by affiliated societies is furnished below:—

	(Figures in lakhs.)
	Loans outstanding at the beginning of the year.	Loans granted to societies.	Loans repaid by societies.	Percentage of recoveries to total dues.	Loans outstanding at the end of the year.	Interest outstanding.
1939-40.	330.37	55.94	47.11	12.1	344.58	148.31
1940-41.	344.58	50.57	60.75	15.3	332.65	165.13

Loans to the extent of Rs. 50.57 lakhs were disbursed to the societies against Rs. 55.94 lakhs of the previous year. The decrease is accounted for by lesser amounts advanced by the Central Banks out of their own funds as also by a slight decrease in the amount of crop loan issued through the Provincial Bank. The crop loan business accounts to a large extent for the comparative increase in loan transactions during the two years. Recoveries showed an excess of Rs. 10 lakhs over the amount advanced which considering the nature of the year was not unsatisfactory. The position as regards old loans however showed little improvement and will not show any real improvement until the debts of the members of the societies are effectively tackled.

Revenue income realised decreased to Rs. 14.72 lakhs against Rs. 19.88 lakhs of the previous year. Against this revenue expenses actually incurred amounted to Rs. 16.33 lakhs. The deficit of Rs. 1.61 lakhs was met by an inroad on capital. The deficit was particularly heavy in the case of Baraset, Berhampore, Jangipur, Jessore, Khulna, Birbhum, Viswa-Bharati, Nalhati, Mughberia, Hooghly, Dacca, Baira, Madaripur, Goalundo, Barisal, Noakhali, Sandwip, Rajshahi, Harishchandrapur, Rangpur, Gai-bandha and Kalimpong Central Banks, being over Rs. 10 lakhs in the case of Birbhum (Rs. 15 lakhs), Hooghly (Rs. 12 lakhs), Dacca (Rs. 13 lakhs), Berhampore (Rs. 10 lakhs) and Barisal (Rs. 17 lakhs). The appearance of Dacca and Barisal—two normally good banks—in this list is unfortunate. Steps have been recently taken to reduce the obligatory charges of Barisal by Rs. 14 lakhs which should considerably strengthen its position. The financial position of the Burdwan, Midnapore, Tamluk, Asansol, Tangail and Meherpur Central Banks continued to be strong.

Agricultural Credit Societies.—The following table indicates briefly the working of agricultural credit societies:—

1940-41.	3.70	4.79	—1.09

The sharp increase in the number of societies and members is due largely to the organisation of crop loan societies.

It will be noticed that notwithstanding the increase in the number of societies there is a decrease in the working capital. This is accounted for principally by the decrease in the loans due to Central Banks. The reduction is also the result of the scaling down of the debts of members by Debt Settlement Boards and the fact that the dues of the members are being increasingly adjusted against their deposits or share capital.

The Reserve or other Funds record a satisfactory increase. There is a drop of Rs. 9.62 lakhs in the loans due to Central Banks while at the same time liabilities of the societies have decreased in other directions which is a satisfactory sign. Owned capital including members deposits formed as much as 46.9 per cent. of the total working capital of the societies as against 45.8 per cent. of the previous year.

The following table shows the position as regards the loans outstanding (due by members) fresh finance, recoveries and overdues :—

	Total outstanding loans at the beginning of the year.	Loans granted to members during the year.	Recoveries.	Total outstanding at the end of the year.	Of which overdues.	Percentage of overdue.
1939-40.	383.05	40.12	45.18	370.65	327.94	88.0
1940-41.	370.65	47.36	55.01	363.13	331.62	91.3

Loans due by the members decreased at the end of the year by Rs. 7.5 lakhs. Recoveries as a whole show a substantial increase of 9.84 lakhs over the previous year but this is due largely to increased recoveries on account of the increased crop loans issued during the year.

The position as regards old loans has on the other hand worsened considerably and almost the entire amount outstanding is now overdue. The outturn of crops was unfavourable, and there was a catastrophic fall in the price of jute while on the other hand the cost of living went up. The result was the societies failed to collect even the crop loans in full while as regards old loans recoveries were equally unsatisfactory.

There are of course other reasons which affected recoveries of old loans. Of these increasing propaganda by political tub-thumpers seeking to achieve popularity by advising members to withhold payment is perhaps the most important and the most difficult to check. An impression which concessions given in the past have helped to strengthen is unfortunately gaining ground that one has only to withhold payment to extract further concessions. A great deal is often heard of the inability of the members to repay their debts but an examination of individual cases shows that it is generally the well-to-do and influential members of a society who are withholding payment on the plea of inability to pay and in order to strengthen the case for remission, are advising other members to do likewise. The only effective way in which this can be countered is on the one hand to pay greater attention to the propagation of co operative principles among the members and on the other to scale down the debt of each member to his repaying capacity. Every member who is unable to repay his loan in full must be induced to go to the Debt Settlement Board and all such cases must be settled as expeditiously as possible. Thereafter the awards should be enforced rigorously. Members should be warned that if they fail to have their debts settled by these boards they will be held liable for the entire amount due from them and steps will be taken under the new Co-operative Societies Act to compel them to pay it.

The cost of management of these societies shows an appreciable decrease and they incurred a net loss of 1.09 lakhs on the year's working. Perhaps the most important cause of this loss is the unsound and suicidal practice which has been obtaining among the societies for some years and the cumulative effect of which is now beginning to show, namely, to allocate as a measure of concession increasing proportions of recoveries from members to their capital account while interest due from them remains outstanding. On the other hand amounts remitted to the Central Banks are first credited, as they should be, to the interest due from the societies. The result is that the productive assets of the societies are decreasing without a corresponding decrease in their interest bearing liabilities. It is hoped that Central Banks will take steps to induce these societies to stop this practice. Other factors that have contributed to the loss are the stoppage of further interest in cases where the interest due exceeds the principal of the loan, the remission of interest due from the members without corresponding adjustments in the owned capital of the society and to some extent the remissions granted by Debt Settlement Boards particularly in cases where no interest is allowed on the awarded amount.

The following table shows the distribution by districts of agricultural credit societies, excluding grain banks and land mortgage banks and their audit classification :—

The above classification reveals a further deterioration in the condition of the societies. The continued existence of a very large number of D and E class societies which are practically beyond all hope of recovery has been a source of great embarrassment and weakness to the agricultural credit movement. Most of these societies should perhaps have been put into liquidation long ago, but the question is bound up with tightening up and recasting the entire liquidation procedure for the results of liquidation proceedings are now extremely unsatisfactory both in regard to the time taken to recover the dues of a society and in respect of actual recoveries. As such liquidation constitutes no threat to recalcitrant members. This question has been carefully examined and proposals to deal with hopeless societies and to refashion the liquidation procedure so as to make it more effective are now receiving the attention of Government.

Grain Banks.—Only one grain bank was organised during the year bringing the total number of such banks to 39 at the close of the year. These societies are generally functioning indifferently. The Ankhona Hafizul Hossain Dharmagola Co-operative Society in the Burdwan district is, however, doing good work and deserves special mention.

Land Mortgage Banks.—The number of Land Mortgage Banks remained 5 as in the previous year. Government have sanctioned the establishment of 5 more Banks to be located at Khulna, Burdwan, Rajshahi, Dacca and Feni. All preliminary arrangements have been made and they will start working as soon as the decision of Government which is expected shortly on the question of financing them is received.

The following table indicates the progress of the existing land mortgage banks :—

Altogether 1,119 applications for loans amounting to Rs. 4·44 lakhs were received by the five banks during the year as against 558 applications for loans amounting to Rs. 2·48 lakhs received during 1939-40. Loans were advanced in 304 cases amounting to Rs. 1·33 lakhs as against 284 loans amounting to Rs. 1·23 lakhs issued in the previous year. 364 applications had to be rejected. In the great majority of cases, the grounds for rejection were uneconomic holding or insufficient repaying capacity.

The total of loans issued by those banks since they started working is now Rs. 8·53 lakhs for which properties worth Rs. 24·85 lakhs are mortgaged to them. The original debts of the members to whom the loans have been sanctioned amounted to Rs. 11·77 lakhs. These were settled at Rs. 7·88 lakhs. The reduction in the debt might have been greater but for the fact that the banks failed to avail themselves of the facilities offered in this respect by the Debt Settlement Boards attached to them. These boards have been revived and reconstituted and instructions have been issued that in future every application for loan for the redemption of debts shall first be submitted to the Land Mortgage Bank Debt Settlement Board and considered by the bank only when a satisfactory reduction in the debt has been effected by the board.

An analysis of the purpose for which loans so far have been issued shows that as much as 90·6 per cent. of the loans were taken for the redemption of prior debts. It is unfortunate that the facilities offered by the land mortgage banks for the purchase of land or the improvement of agricultural holdings are still very inadequately realised.

There are several reasons for slow progress. The first is, as stated earlier in the report, the fact that the reduction in the debts effected by the land mortgage banks was comparatively small and that the loans issued by the banks carries interest. This has led many prospective borrowers to seek instead the protection of Debt Settlement Boards which effect a bigger reduction in the claims of the creditors and which generally do not award any interest on the debts so reduced. Another factor which has dissuaded agriculturists from seeking loans from land mortgage banks is the fear that they will not be able to obtain any more credit on the property mortgaged to the bank till the bank's loan is fully discharged. The borrowers of the bank are now however permitted to obtain crop loans from societies and section 96 of the new Co-operative Societies Act will permit them under certain conditions to raise a fresh loan on the security of property mortgaged to the Land Mortgage Bank. It is hoped that this will go some way to dispel the fear referred to above. The unwillingness of co-sharers to join in executing the mortgage of the properties offered by the applicant has also hampered the progress of these banks but this difficulty has partly been removed by the amended Bengal Tenancy Act.

Though the business of these banks has shown a welcome increase during the year, overdues have assumed disquieting proportions. For the first time since their inception three banks, Mymensingh, Pabna and Birbhum, failed to repay kists due to the Provincial Bank punctually and defaulted to the extent of Rs. 17 lakhs as principal and Rs. 09 lakhs as interest. This has been attributed to the heavy slump in the price of jute and the failure of the paddy crop in the areas served by these banks, but, I fear, is also due to the unwillingness of the banks to take deterrent action against defaulters. The necessity of dealing with defaulters promptly has been pointed out to these banks and the position as regard overdues has since the close of the year considerably improved.

Four of the 5 land mortgage banks worked at a profit, the Pabna bank earning a profit for the first time since it was started. The condition of the Jessore bank is causing anxiety. Measures which include increase in the area of its operation have been adopted to enable it to expand its business and strengthen its financial position.

Non-agricultural Credit Societies.—These societies comprise chiefly salary earners' societies and Urban Banks and their number increased by 6 to 614 with 2·80 lakhs members and paid-up share capital of Rs. 127·14 lakhs. The reserve and other funds amounted to Rs. 76·03 lakhs.

The following statement will show some particulars of their working :—

Salary Earners' Societies.—The majority of the societies are salary earners' societies. They are definitely good societies recovering their loans punctually. This is due mainly to the keenness and enthusiasm displayed by the management and the general body of share-holders and the facilities they enjoy of recovering loan instalments due at source through pay sheets. Section 51 of the new Co-operative Societies Act should further strengthen their position in this respect. There is however a tendency in some of the societies to permit members to borrow up to the maximum limits allowed under the bye-laws and to borrow continuously by setting off previous dues by means of "paper transactions." This tendency should be checked for it is likely, if continued, sooner or later to land them in difficulties.

Most of the big urban banks and salary earners' societies are competent to do business in inland exchange, collection of pay or pensions and interest on securities, shares, bonds and other scrips. Overdrafts against deposits may be granted to members and savings encouraged. The business of giving loans to merchants and traders on the security of agricultural produce may also be undertaken provided precautions are taken to guard against risks that this form of finance lends itself to, namely, theft, fire, adulteration, etc.

Important among non-agricultural credit societies are those organised amongst the scavengers of municipalities. They generally worked well during the year, being supervised by the staff of the municipalities concerned, though overdues were frequently noticed. The Tamduk Municipal Methar Society in the district of Midnapur and the Jangipur Municipal Methar Society in the district of Murshidabad worked very satisfactorily throughout the year. Their business was conducted entirely with their own capital, overdues being happily absent.

(ii) Purchase and Sale Societies.

Central Co-operative Paddy Sale Society.

This society generally deals in paddy and rice belonging to societies affiliated to it, other members of co-operative societies and non-members. The number of member societies was 12, the paid-up share capital Rs. 5,450 and reserve fund Rs. 10,353.

The following table will throw some light on its working for two years:—

	(In lakhs.)	(In lakhs.)
	1939-40.	1940-41.

5. Purchase of non-members products ..	·93	1·24
6. Sale of goods to members	2·77	3·79
7. Sale of goods to non-members ..	·90	1·29

The society handled 1·30 lakh maunds of paddy and rice against 1·28 lakh maunds in the previous year. Its profit amounted to only Rs. 377 during the year. It sells members' produce at a small commission which leaves it only a small margin of profit for it has to advance against stocks large sums to the suppliers by borrowing from the Provincial Bank at a high rate of interest. The question of reorganising and expanding its activities is under consideration.

Agricultural Purchase and Sale Societies.

— There are 78 societies against 73 in 1939-40 and the membership has risen to 42,528.

The following table shows the working of these societies:—

	1939-40.	1940-41.
1. Paid-up share capital ..	2·46	2·82
2. Reserve and other funds	1·10	1·31

6. Purchase of members products	4·03	5·97
7. Sale of goods to members	3·69	6·44
8. Profit	·26	·43

There was a satisfactory increase in the paid up share capital, reserve and other funds, working capital, amount of business handled and the profits made. Some of the sale societies have passed the experimental stage but lack of necessary capital has hampered their development. Of the societies which did fairly good business during the year the following deserve special mention:—

The membership of the Parbatipur Sale and Supply Society in the district of Dinajpur rose from 8,058 to 9,511 and paid up share capital from Rs. 21,314 to Rs. 46,965. It handled 62,590 mds. of paddy out of which 47,360 mds. were received from members; the corresponding figures for 1939-40 were 51,967 mds. and 37,386 mds. respectively. The society has its own godowns at six different places. On the year's working it earned a profit of Rs. 12,216. It has recently constructed its own rice mill at Manmathapur with a capacity to husk about 1,000 mds. of paddy per day. On its own account the mill earned a profit of Rs. 9,337 during the year.

The establishment of the rice mill as an annexe to the sale and supply society has roused considerable enthusiasm among cultivators in that district and has given a fillip to co-operative marketing of paddy in this and neighbouring districts.

The membership, share capital, and reserve fund of the Gosava Jamini Rice Mill showed only small increases during the year and were respectively 459, Rs. 14,595 and Rs. 14,012 during the year. Its working capital stood at Rs. 1·33 lakhs. It handled 1,01,309 maunds of paddy as against 79,733 maunds during the previous year. 62,716 maunds were sent to the Central Paddy Sale Society at Calcutta for sale and 38,593 maunds were bulled yielding 20,762 maunds of rice. On the year's working, the society earned a profit of Rs. 10,521 against Rs. 2,470 of the previous year.

The Bakarganj Sunderban Sale and Supply Society runs a rice mill, a match factory and supplies the necessities of life to members. It has two branches at Baghi and Mahipur. The working capital of the society is Rs. 2,78,337 and it had a membership of 3,996, of which 124 are societies. The mill handled 34,661 maunds of members' paddy and received 14,440 maunds from outsiders for husking. It made a profit of Rs. 11,843. The factory produced match boxes to the value of Rs. 23,702 but earned only a small profit. The net profit of the society was Rs. 13,835.

The membership of the Hili Sale and Supply Society in the district of Dinajpur rose from 4,488 to 6,653 and share capital from Rs. 4,438 to Rs. 6,653 during the year. It handled 17,275 maunds of paddy and earned a net profit of Rs. 2,640 against Rs. 991 in the previous year. The Provincial Bank loan of Rs. 30,000 was repaid in full. This society helped the Balurghat Central Bank in realising short-term loans to the extent of Rs. 36,418. The society has established itself in an area served by 17 rice mills.

The Pulhat Sale and Supply Society helped the Dinajpur Central Bank to collect crop loans in kind. Its membership rose from 2,500 to 6,649 and share capital from Rs. 3,882 to Rs. 6,884 during the year. It handled only 12,000 maunds of paddy and earned a profit of Rs. 1,407. The society has since been reorganised and its centre of activities has been transferred to Birol.

The working of the Setabganj Sale and Supply Society has not been satisfactory. It obtained a cash credit loan of Rs. 75,000 from the Provincial Bank which however has been repaid. It handled 28,000 maunds of paddy against 12,000 maunds during the previous year. It hired a local rice and sugar mill from a local merchant to carry on its business but the overhead charges of the mill under the terms of the contract were so heavy that only a nominal profit of about Rs. 600 was made on the year's working. The contract has since been rescinded.

The Rangamati Co-operative Sale and Supply Society in the Chittagong Hill Tracts was established with a view to give relief to the cotton growers of the Hill Tracts and accordingly cotton business was first taken up. But due to the slump in the price of cotton, the society has turned its attention to paddy and four centres were organised in the interior for its collection. The Government have sanctioned a staff of one Supervisor and a peon for the society.

The Kalimpong Sale and Supply Society undertook business in oranges but due to the low prices of oranges then prevailing was not able to make much headway.

Multi-purpose Societies.—These societies differ only slightly in character from the foregoing societies. During the year their number rose to 33 from 16 and their membership was 44,228.

The following statement indicates the progress of these societies:—

	(Rupees in lakhs.)
	1939-40.	1940-41.
1. Paid-up share capital ..	·12	·39
2. Loans from Provincial or Central Banks ..	·70	·82
3. Working capital ..	·84	1·26
4. Purchase of members products ..	·04	·67
5. Sale of goods to members	·03	·33
6. Profit ..	·05	·13

These societies have made a promising start. The work of the following deserves mention.

The Nawabganj Multi-purpose Society in the district of Malda made a net profit of Rs. 2,600 on handling 9,500 maunds of paddy and 2,300 maunds of rice. The Galachipa Multi-purpose Society stocked 3,200 maunds of paddy and sold it at a small net profit. It repaid the entire loan of Rs. 10,000 obtained from the Provincial Bank. The Mirzapur Multi purpose society made a profit of Rs. 3,267 from crop loans and Aratdari business. The paid-up share capital of the society amounted to Rs. 5,766. It has purchased a godown where members' produce may be stored.

Non-agricultural Purchase and Supply Societies.—There were 47 societies working during the year against 44 of the previous year. They had 5,700 members, paid-up share capital of 1·09 lakhs and reserve and other funds amounting to Rs. ·51 lakhs. Their sales increased to Rs. 5·11 lakhs from Rs. 3·90 lakhs in the previous year, but the profit came down to Rs. ·10 lakhs from Rs. ·18 lakhs. The increase in sales is mainly accounted for by the transactions of one society at Calcutta, two at 24-Parganas and one at Rajshahi. The Bengal Chemical Co operative Stores at Calcutta, the Sardah Police Training Co-operative Stores and the Raigaon Co-operative Medical Stores in Rajshahi, the Dhakeswari Co-operative Stores near Dacca and the Samabaya Bhandar at Santiniketan worked satisfactorily. The Ichapura School Co-operative Stores has opened a cloth department and acquired land for erecting a building of its own.

It is to be regretted that the stores movement has not shown much sign of progress in spite of the opportunities offered by conditions created by the war. Twenty years ago (30th June 1921) there were 90 such societies in the Province with sales to members in 1920-21 of over 12½ lakhs of rupees.

(iii) Production and Sale Societies.

Milk Unions.—The general position with regard to Milk Unions is indicated in the table given below :—

	1939-40.	1940-41.
1. Number of unions ..	5	4
2. Number of members —
(a) individuals ..	231	199
(b) societies ..	162	137
	(In lakhs.)
3. Paid-up share capital ..	·26	·25
4. Reserve Fund ..	1·42	1·33
5. Deposits from individuals ..	·14	·15
6. Deposits from societies ..	·33	·34
7. Loans from Provincial or Central Banks ..	·40	·38
8. Working capital ..	2·56	2·46
9. Purchase of milk from members ..	2·27	2·00
10. Sale of milk ..	3·17	3·71

During the year the Naogaon Co-operative Milk Union was put into liquidation. The value of the fixed stock of the Darjeeling Milk Union was written down in 1939-40 by Rs. 35,692 and during 1940-41 this union remained in informal liquidation and was actually put into liquidation after the close of the year. The Creameries Union, Darjeeling, has also been informally placed under liquidation.

The Chittagong Central Milk Supply Union increased its sales but could not give financial accommodation to societies affiliated to it for the maintenance of cows and this affected its milk supply adversely.

The Calcutta Milk Union alone continued to do business on a big scale. It sold 43,947 maunds of milk for Rs. 3,55,508 against 40,244 maunds for Rs. 3,10,388 in the previous year. The total milk handled was 45,254 maunds against 41,459 maunds in the previous year. The daily average of milk handled was 124 maunds and the average wastage was 2 maunds 35 seers per hundred maunds, i.e., about 3½ maunds per day. The cost of management was reduced to Rs. 52,572 from Rs. 77,684 in the previous year.

The main problem of the union which has so far baffled solution is the high percentage of milk "wastage" associated with which is the question of dealing with the excess supply of milk during a part of the year and shortage during another. A new board has recently been elected and is now studying this question. It is hoped that a satisfactory solution will be found.

The management of the union under the old Board left much to be desired. A false sense of prestige made it reject departmental advice or help.

Milk Societies.—There were 223 societies with 10,626 members and paid-up share capital of Rs. 25,903. The working capital amounted to Rs. 1·53 lakhs of which Rs. ·26 lakhs was borrowed from Central Banks or Unions.

The working of these societies showed little change during the year. Three were put into liquidation.

Of these societies, the group affiliated to the Calcutta Milk Union numbering 125 is the most important and account for the bulk of the figures given above. Some of these societies are also functioning indifferently.

Mention may be made of three societies not affiliated to the Calcutta Milk Union. The Uttarpara Milk Society in the district of Hooghly maintained three stud bulls and possessed pasture lands. It cultivated Napier grass and millets. The Burnpur Co-operative Dairy is progressing satisfactorily. Its average outturn of milk increased to four maunds per day. The Balurghat Milk Society in the district of Dinajpur built its own building and its record of work was satisfactory.

The Naogaon Ganja Cultivators Co-operative Society, Ltd. The society trades in ganja and bhang, ganja being cultivated and manufactured mostly by the members of the society. It continued to enjoy the monopoly of sale of ganja and bhang in the province and according to the terms of the monopoly paid a sum of Rs. 22,272 during the year as cost of maintenance of the Excise Preventive staff as against Rs. 22,611 of the previous year.

The total quantity of ganja produced was 1,651 maunds from 800 bighas of land against 2,461 maunds from 776 bighas licensed during the previous year. The outturn per bigha was only 2 maunds 2½ seers against 3 maunds 6 seers of the previous year. Sale of ganja amounted to 1,512 maunds and showed a decrease of 228 maunds as compared with the previous year when it had a windfall in the shape of a substantial order from Burma. The fact, however, remains that owing to increasing cultivation of ganja in Bihar and Orissa and a perceptible decline in the quality of ganja grown in Naogaon the demand for this ganja from other provinces is steadily shrinking—a fact to which the members of this society are not sufficiently alive. Instead of concentrating on improving the quality of their ganja and the yield per bigha, they continue to agitate for higher prices, regardless of the competitive and administrative considerations that determine the price of ganja in and outside Bengal and the fact that a disproportionately high price must inevitably lead, as it did in the past, to a further fall in the demand outside Bengal for Naogaon ganja and stimulate its cultivation in other provinces. In order to base prices on a more equitable basis for the cultivators Government undertook a detailed investigation into the cost of cultivation of this crop in 1939-40. The Excise, Co-operative and Agriculture Departments participated in this investigation and the results were examined by the Excise Commissioner and myself. On the basis of this examination Government have recently decided, in consultation with this department, to fix the price of ganja for 1941-42 as follows: Outside Bengal, Rs. 172-8 per maund; in Bengal, Rs. 202-8 per maund. The price in 1939-40 and 1940-41 pending this enquiry remained: outside Bengal, Rs. 160 per maund; in Bengal Rs. 180 per maund. The new prices should leave the cultivators with a reasonable profit on the cultivation of this crop and it is hoped that they will now devote more attention to improving the quality of the ganja than to a fruitless and short-sighted clamour for higher prices each year.

The profits of the society amounted to only Rs. 3,250 against Rs. 40,911 of the previous year. Its Reserve Fund stood at Rs. 3,42,035. It maintained three charitable dispensaries at a cost of Rs. 4,335. It also ran one H. E. School, 3 M. E. Schools, 1 Madrassah and 52 primary schools and Maktabas in the Ganja Mahal at a cost of Rs. 3,351 and constructed some minor roads and bunds.

Sugarcane-Growers' Co-operative Societies Union.—The following table gives the main figures relating to the two sugarcane-growers' unions of the Province:—

	1939-40.	1940-41.
1. Number of members (societies)	434	519
	Figures in lakhs.
2. Paid-up share capital ..	·10	·17
3. Loans from Provincial or Central Banks ..	·95	·70
4. Purchase of cane from members	·63	·67
5. Sale of cane to non-members	·63	·67
6. Profits	·03	·02

The number of individual members of the societies affiliated to these unions increased from 3,507 to 8,765 during the year.

The number of societies affiliated to the Gopalpur Canegrowers' Union rose from 66 to 68 and it supplied 2,28,000 maunds of sugarcane to the local sugar mill during the crushing season, 1940-41. The Union earned a commission of Rs. 1,642 against Rs. 2,134 of the previous year, at 12 as. 6p. and 4 as. per hundred maunds for contracted and ready sale respectively. During the year it repaid the Provincial Bank loan of Rs. 25,000 fully.

The Setabganj Sugarcane Growers' Union had affiliated to it 84 purely sugarcane-growers' societies besides 361 crop loan societies organised amongst sugarcane-growers. The area under cane covered 5,000 bighas against 1,830 bighas of the previous year and the outturn of cane was 450,140 maunds against 150,000 maunds of the previous year. 250,000 maunds were sold to the local mills through the intervention of the Union while 150,000 maunds were turned into gur and the rest used for cuttings, etc., for the next season. The Union earned a profit of Rs. 1,527 against Rs. 2,940 of the previous year. The fall in profits is due to the fact that the mill declined to give any commission to the union for supplying cane this year.

The profits of these Unions are, however, illusory inasmuch as they are the result of subsidies received from the Government of India Sugar Excise Fund. But for this both unions have worked at a loss and, it is feared, they will continue to work at a loss until the mills adopt a more sympathetic attitude towards them than has so far been the case.

Agricultural Associations.—Agricultural Associations are intended to promote the adoption of improved methods of cultivation including joint cultivation, joint purchase of agricultural requisites, joint sale of produce as also to obtain settlement of land for agricultural purposes including colonisation.

There were 37 such associations with 9,882 members with a working capital of Rs. 1·30 lakhs of which Rs. ·27 lakhs represented outside borrowings. With few exceptions these societies are functioning indifferently and are working more or less as credit societies. The question of reorganising some of these societies into Multi purpose Societies is being considered.

The most important society in this group is the Badarkhali Colonization Society in the Chittagong district. During the year it continued to make excellent progress. The number of debt free members increased to 152 as against 262 members originally in debt. Collections during the year were Rs. ·28 lakhs against Rs. ·34 lakhs of the previous year. As the number of debt free members increases collections will naturally be less.

The society borrowed Rs. 3,000 from the Provincial Bank to advance cultivation loans to its members and repaid Rs. 9,600 to that bank leaving a balance of Rs. 4,554 against Rs. 10,609 due at the beginning of the year. The society stocked 4,200 maunds of paddy in its granary for issuing paddy loans to members. Several roads including the Badarkhali Chakaria District Board Momin Road have been constructed entirely by voluntary labour given by the members. In the colony primary education is free for both boys and girls and it maintains a free U.P. School. There are also night schools to impart the rudiments of learning to adults. A few years ago almost all the colonists were illiterate but now almost all of them can read and write. The society's weaving school continued to impart useful training to the students coming from the different blocks. Its charitable dispensary received grants from Government and other sources for the purchase of surgical instruments, medicines and furniture.

An interesting experiment in joint farming initiated by the Collector of Nadia, led to the establishment of the Jahangirnagar and Raipur Co-operative Joint Farming Societies. The members have pooled their holdings, the land contributed by each member is taken as his share capital; the holdings are consolidated and cultivated jointly by the members who receive wages. The societies are still in the experimental stage. Their progress is being watched with interest.

The Naogaon Agricultural Association incurred a loss of Rs. 2,908 against Rs. 4,353 of the previous year. Its sugar factory has remained in a moribund state for a long time and there are no prospects of reviving it.

Zamindary Societies.—There are only two societies of this kind in the Province. The Bengal Youngmen's Zamindary Society had a working capital of Rs. 78 lakhs and a membership of 340. The efforts of the society to get youngmen to settle in villages as farmers have not been attended with much success.

The Tamluk Krishi and Zamindary Society in the district of Midnapore possesses landed properties at Balasore in Orissa, the major portion of which was leased out to the tenant members for cultivation and some portion has been kept in the khas possession of the society. The working capital of the society remained constant at Rs. 40 lakhs. On the year's working it incurred a small loss.

Industrial Unions.—There were 10 Unions with 1,901 members of whom 202 were societies. Their paid-up share capital amounted to Rs. 2.12 lakhs and reserve fund to Rs. .22 lakhs. The working capital was Rs. 5.89 lakhs of which Rs. .91 lakhs was borrowed from Government and Rs. 1.99 lakhs from Provincial or Central Banks.

They purchased goods worth Rs. 35 lakhs from members and worth Rs. 1.72 lakhs from non-members and sold goods worth Rs. 2.49 lakhs.

The Dacca Co-operative Industrial Union was put into liquidation last year and a new Industrial Union set up at Gopaldi, an important weaving centre in the district of Dacca, to which the staff attached to the Dacca Union was transferred. The activities of the following Unions deserve mention:—

The Bengal Provincial Industrial Society raised considerable share capital by enlisting new members. It sold finished goods valued at Rs. 84,090 against Rs. 63,802 during the previous year. It obtained from Government a grant of Rs. 20,000 for meeting the cost of establishment, propaganda and purchase of samples, etc., and extended instalments for repaying the existing Government loan of Rs. 28,700. Both through its sales and propaganda it continued to popularise handloom products and supplied new designs to its members. On the year's working it earned a profit of Rs. 7,066 against Rs. 3,809 of the previous year.

The new designs which the members of the Bankura Industrial Union have been taught have found great favour with the consumers and are being increasingly adopted by the local cloth merchants. The Union sold goods worth Rs. 15 lakhs against Rs. 14 lakhs of the previous year and earned a net profit of Rs. 1,552 against the previous year's net loss of Rs. 850.

The paid up share capital of the Bagerhat Weaving Union rose to Rs. 1.58 lakhs from Rs. .93 lakhs during the previous year and the working capital to Rs. 3.05 lakhs from Rs. 2.21 lakhs. The union has an up to date plant and a sizing and calendering machine purchased out of the Government of India grant. The total number of power looms at work was 50. The Union has acquired a good reputation among consumers and goods produced by it found a ready market throughout the province. During the year goods worth Rs. 83,619 were sold against goods worth Rs. 71,084 sold during the previous year and the Union earned a profit of Rs. 3,429 as against Rs. 2,443 of the previous year.

The Mobaraknagar Industrial Union was registered during the year. It had at the end of the year a paid-up share capital of Rs. 2,044 and working capital of Rs. 11,466 inclusive of the Provincial Bank loan of Rs. 9,409. It received a subsidy of Rs. 2,500 from Government besides a recurring grant of Rs. 1,300 to meet the cost of the handloom staff and contingent expenses. It executed orders for gauze and bandages received from the Indian Stores Department, several Calcutta firms and Government Hospitals of the total value of Rs. 48,673.

The activities of the Alamdanga Industrial Union consisted chiefly of purchasing yarn through the Bengal Provincial Co-operative Industrial Society and supplying it to weaver members of co-operative societies. A considerable portion of the yarn was dyed in the factory attached to the Union. During the year it sold yarn of the value of Rs. 8,706. Members' products worth Rs. 10,494 were also sold through the Union. An order for 10,000 yards of bandages was placed with the Union by the Marketing Officer and duly executed.

The handloom staff maintained out of the Government of India grant held about 1,000 demonstrations to train members of weaving societies in improved methods of weaving and dyeing. It helped not only in standardising their products and introducing new designs but also in marketing their goods. The resources of the weaving unions are however limited and the abnormal rise in the price of yarn and dye stuffs made it impossible for them to purchase these commodities for their own use or for the use of their members on anything like the scale originally intended.

Weavers' Societies.—A few weavers' societies were organised during the year and affiliated to the Bagerhat Co-operative Weaving Union. Figures relating to this Union have therefore not been included for the first time in statistics for weavers' societies but shown under "Producers' Union" in the Statement K.

There were 354 societies with 5,443 members, paid up share capital amounting to Rs. 39 lakhs and working capital to Rs. 3.98 lakhs of which Rs. 2.20 lakhs was borrowed capital. Almost all these societies have been functioning as purely credit societies and most of their borrowed capital is now locked up in loans to weavers. These loans amounted to Rs. 2.19 lakhs, almost all overdue. Coupled with the shortage of liquid resources thus occasioned, was the rapid increase in the prices of yarn and dyes owing to the War. This explains why these societies sold members' goods worth only Rs. 457. Nevertheless, the volume of sales by the members themselves on their own account was substantial. The staff maintained out of the Government of India grant for the improvement of the handloom industry helped weavers in this respect considerably by standardising and improving the quality of their goods and training them in improved methods of dyeing and weaving.

The Dhanikhola Milan Samaj Co-operative Silpa Sangha Samity in the district of Mymensingh received the second instalment of the Government grant during the year. Seven automatic looms and 3 fly-shuttle looms were operated by this society. Besides cotton, it produced a quantity of silk and woolen fabrics. About 23 trained members of the society had been able to start small factories of their own.

In the Chittagong district the Tetaiya Tantubai Samity made considerable progress in the production of towels and shirtings of various designs for which there is a good demand in the market. The Joara Kanchannagar and Dakshin Boalipara Weaving Societies produced cloth for local consumption on an extensive scale.

148,131 pounds of raw materials were purchased for the members of weavers societies affiliated to the Bankura Industrial Union and 56,700 yards of textiles were manufactured by them.

Recently, through the initiative of the Collector, a survey of the weaving industry in the district of Jessore has been made. It appears that there is considerable scope for reviving and developing the industry in this district and a number of societies of weavers have been organised. A scheme for assisting them out of the Government of India Handloom grant has been prepared.

Women's Industrial Societies.—The Dum Dum Women's Co-operative Industrial Home entered its third year of existence. Destitute Bhadrolog women were trained in the industrial school maintained by the Home and a marked improvement was noticed in the quality of their products. The Home produces mainly furnishing materials, water-proof lining cloth and other fancy articles. Its sales showed a considerable increase over those of the previous year, the improvement being due to the employment of agents, arrangements for keeping articles on consignment at important shops and increased purchases by the Provincial Industrial Society, Ltd. During the year 10 trained workers left the Home of whom some found employment as teachers in technical schools.

The Islamia Ideal Home Industrial Society, Ltd., was organised at Chittagong on the model of the Dum Dum Women's Industrial Home and registered at the close of the previous year. The membership of this society is open to Muslim women, whose principal vocation is weaving or who intend to take up weaving as a profession. The Home received a grant of Rs. 2,690 from Government of which Rs. 1,000 was earmarked as working capital and the balance was set apart for meeting the salary of one Instructor. It has been fortunate in securing a spacious building free of cost where its factory is located. There are 26 members now working 15 looms, which have been provided out of the Government of India grant. A peripatetic demonstration party was deputed by the Department of Industries to train the members in the art of weaving. There was no difficulty in disposing of its products.

Cottage Industries.—There were 11 societies at the end of the year dealing with miscellaneous cottage industries. These societies are generally functioning indifferently. The Co-operative Bishan Silpa Samity in Dacca is however doing well. It was registered in 1939 and of late has taken up marketing of buttons manufactured from horns by the members. The demand for these has increased on account of the war and the society had already supplied more than 40,000 gross buttons valued at nearly Rs. 25,000. It has recently been enlisted as an approved firm for the supply of buttons by the Director-General of Supply, Delhi.

No improvement was noticed in the working of the conch-shell makers or Cocoon Rearing Societies during the year. Eight of the former were put into liquidation in Dacca district.

The Jangipur Silk Industrial Association could not improve its position during the year. The loans due by members have frozen. It could not obtain any fresh capital from any source and its work suffered in consequence. It is endeavouring to secure financial assistance from Government in order to acquire a filature of its own.

Fishermen's Societies.—There were 124 fishermen's societies with 6,990 members with a working capital of Rs. 2.91 lakhs, paid-up share capital of Rs. .55 lakhs and reserve and other funds amounting to Rs. 1.58 lakhs. The majority of these societies started as credit societies of which fishermen alone were members and came to grief. During the year loans due by members amounted to Rs. 1.38 lakhs of which Rs. 1.12 lakhs were overdue, a large part of which has become irrecoverable. Some notable results were, however, achieved by societies which undertook the actual business of fishing.

The Chittagong Fishery Society increased its membership from 155 to 182 and its working capital from Rs. .20 lakhs to Rs. .25 lakhs. It caught 10,800 maunds of fish against 10,300 maunds in the previous year, the net sale proceeds amounting to Rs. 75,962 against Rs. 62,077 in the previous year. The society borrowed Rs. 65,000 from the Provincial Bank during the year which was fully repaid. The balance of the previous loan due to the Provincial Bank stood at Rs. 13,645. On the year's working it earned a profit of Rs. 4,969 against Rs. 4,246 in the previous year.

The Goalundo Fishery Society purchased fish of the value of Rs. 27,635 against Rs. 40,042 in the previous year and its sales amounted to Rs. 29,450 as against Rs. 40,428 of the previous year. The fall in the supply of fish was due mainly to the disloyalty of the members resulting from factions encouraged by the Zamindars who are unfavourably disposed towards the society.

In the 24 Parganas the Bidyadhari Spill Matsyajibi Samabay Samity sold fish worth Rs. 1.02 lakhs against Rs. .98 lakhs of the previous year and made a profit of Rs. .12 lakhs against Rs. .39 lakhs of the previous year. There were some allegations against the working of this society. The staff in charge has been changed and its business and methods of work are being reorganised. The Captain Bhery Fishery Society sold fish of the value of Rs. .05 lakhs and made a very small profit. Steps have been taken to reorganise this society as well.

In Raipura, Lakshyanadi, Buriganga and Baranadi Societies in the district of Dacca took lease of selected fisheries from the landlords and allowed their members to catch fish on payment of varying rates of rent. The marketing of the catches on behalf of the members has not yet been taken up by these societies.

(iv) Public Health, Better Living and other Societies.

Bengal Co-operative Alliance.—The society's object is to broadcast co-operative ideas throughout the province and thereby further the advancement of the co-operative movement. But despite generous assistance from Government its activities have remained limited in character and its financial position insecure. Its chief difficulty is to collect subscription from rural societies over whom it has failed so far to acquire even a moral hold, so meagre is their appreciation of the benefits it offers them. It publishes two admirable journals the "Bhandar" and "The Co-operative Journal" neither of which command the circulation they deserve and both constitute a heavy drain on its slender resources. Its printing press has, however, helped its finances considerably and it is hoped that co-operative institutions will patronise it in increasing numbers.

The question of reorganising the finances and the activities of the Alliance has recently been taken up with its directors.

Anti-malarial Societies.—The activities of these societies include anti-malarial propaganda among rural people, supply of medicines, sinking of tube-wells, construction of roads and culverts and other public health activities. There were 1,098 such societies with .21 lakhs members. Their working capital amounted to Rs. .90 lakhs consisting almost entirely of members' deposits (Rs. .07 lakhs) and their own funds.

During the year no noticeable change occurred either in the volume of their work or other activities. The Kotalpur Hitasadhini Society in Bankura, Ilipur, Debanandapur and Subalpur Societies in Hooghly, Islampur and Gangapur Societies in Murshidabad, the Selaidah, Barajagulia and Kamalpur Societies in Nadia and the Brahman Rakdia Society in Khulna did satisfactory work. The Natuk and the Paikarjita Societies in Midnapur maintained charitable medical dispensaries offering relief to members as well as non-members. The South Kotwali Society in Faridpur excavated a khal providing facilities for communication and irrigation and on this account received a contribution from the Government. The health societies organised on the Biswa-Bharati model started work but it is too early yet to comment on their working.

Eleven of these societies were affiliated to the Central Co-operative Anti-malarial Society which continued to conduct anti-malarial propaganda through its monthly journal "Sonar Bangla" and public speeches in the countryside.

Co-operative Medical Societies.—There were four medical societies against three during the previous year. Three of these societies worked indifferently but the Bogra Co-operative Medical Society did useful work. Its working capital was Rs. 21 lakhs against Rs. 17 lakhs of the previous year and it has now a building of its own. It imparted medical education to a large number of students and rendered medical assistance to hundreds of patients. It is practically running on the income derived from tuition fees and fees realised from out-door patients and public donations.

Bengal Home Crofters Association.—The society continued to do useful work in disseminating information about agriculture and soil science through the vernacular journal "Sonar Bangla" issued by the Central Anti-malarial Society and encouraged kitchen gardening.

Better Living Societies.—The activities of these societies include attention to public health, water-supply, devising ways and means for providing employment for the unemployed, the development of cottage industries and the settlement of village disputes. There were 552 such societies with 15 lakhs members and working capital of Rs. 32 lakhs.

In spite of the difficulties of finance some societies did very useful work. The Goyghar Society ran a charitable medical dispensary and the Bansgari Society ran a free library and a primary school. The Khaguria Palli Sanskar Samiti in Noakhali and the Baliati Palli Sanskar Samity in Dacca districts maintained weaving schools and devoted considerable attention to public health activities within their areas of operation. The Dhupati Palli Sanskar Samity in Bakarganj district ran a lower primary school and constructed roads 1½ miles long. The Nerê-Ballibundh, Sankoti, Dwaribere, Bathuary

Rao and Argoab Nilima Palli Samities in the district of Midnapore also did good work. Some of them established charitable dispensaries, primary schools for boys and girls, developed local roads and started poultry breeding and seed stores. The Brahmanbaria Palli Sanskar Samity maintained an itinerant library with 2,000 books. It spent about Rs. 5,000 out of the donation of Raja Kamala Ranjan Roy for adult education and the upkeep of night schools. It also maintained an irrigation pump with a mechanic and agricultural demonstrator and a tube-well mechanic to look after its large number of tube-wells.

Irrigation Societies.—There were 1,070 irrigation societies against 1,011 in 1939-40. The number of members increased from 21,624 to 23,072 and the paid-up share capital from Rs. 3.29 lakhs to Rs. 3.32 lakhs during the year. Loans from Government and members' deposits showed a slight fall being respectively Rs. 30 lakhs and Rs. 06 lakhs. Many of the societies have not yet become self-supporting, due primarily to the difficulty of collecting the dues from members and others benefited from the work and to the high cost of some of these works financed as they are largely with borrowed capital. The difficulty of collection will, it is hoped, be largely met when the new Co-operative Societies Act comes into force.

The number of irrigation societies in the Howrah, Hooghly and Bankura districts was 365 of which 6 were in Howrah, 3 in Hooghly and 356 in Bankura. The total number of members of these societies was 10 lakhs of which 09 lakhs actually benefited from the works undertaken. Of the total irrigable area of 85 lakh bighas, 55 lakh bighas was irrigated. The area of irrigation tanks was 03 lakh bighas. They were excavated at a cost of Rs. 1.89 lakhs of which members contributed Rs. 31 lakhs. The paid-up share capital of these societies amounted to Rs. 2.24 lakhs.

The works of Baganda Vekutal and the Gouripur Khal Societies in the Howrah district benefited crops and effected improvement in the general health of the locality. The Gurusadai, Rukmini Khal, Brajadurlav and the Chamkura Jarisa Societies in the Bankura district were organised by the Irrigation Department as major schemes. The remaining societies were organised either as tank or bund schemes. The Gurusadai Jal Sarbaraha Samity continues to be maintained by Government though the cost is met by the society. It irrigated 2,000 bighas of land belonging to 19 members. The Chamkura Jarisa Society organised to irrigate 1,008 bighas of land continued to do useful work. The Brajadurlav Jalsarbaraha Samity was organised by the Irrigation Department at a cost of Rs. 28,000 but the scheme proved infructuous and was abandoned.

The number of irrigation societies in the district of Birbhum rose from 497 to 504. The total irrigable area under them was 32,495 bighas. The Dadpur Dowki Jalsarbaraha Samity took up the second part of the original scheme and acquisition of land for the purchase was in progress during the year. Government sanctioned a grant of Rs. 2,500 to the society. It is expected that the scheme will be completed next year and the irrigable area under the society will thus be increased by another 15,000 bighas.

The area of the Boalia Beel Irrigation Production and Sale Supply Society in Malda comprises 20,000 bighas of beel land. The society erected a kutchra bund about 60 feet long and 16 feet wide and as a result there has been some improvement in the outturn of crops in the area. The society has burnt two lakhs of bricks for constructing a pucca bund. It has obtained the "jalkar" and fishery rights of the beel from the Chanchal Raj Estate which are expected to be substantial subsidiary sources of income.

The societies in the Asansol area confined their activities to re excavation of old tanks and reconstruction of old bunds, while most societies in the Burdwan Sadar subdivision are not functioning as lands in the area are now being irrigated by the Eden and Damodar canals of the Irrigation Department.

Relief Societies.—The number of these societies rose to 77 during the year from 63 in the previous year. They have 11,389 members, a paid-up share capital of Rs. 23 lakhs and working capital of Rs. 7.72 lakhs of which Rs. 86 lakhs constitutes reserve fund and other funds. Their profits amounted to Rs. 26 lakhs. These societies are doing useful work, particularly by promoting thrift among small salary earners.

Insurance Societies.—Owing to the provisions of the New Insurance Societies Act, four co-operative mutual benefit and relief societies, namely, the Bengal Secretariat Co-operative Death Benefit Society, the Calcutta Customs Co-operative Benefit Society, the Calcutta Postal and R.M.S. Co-operative Mutual Benefit Society and the Bengal Police Co-operative Benefit Society were transferred from the "Relief" group of societies to the "Insurance" group during the year. The Corporation of Calcutta Co-operative Death Benefit Society and the Eastern Bengal Railway Employees' Co-operative Benefit Society had been similarly transferred to the "Insurance" group last year.

These six societies together with the Bengal Co-operative Insurance Society had a membership of 13,555 with risk insured amounting to Rs. 62.41 lakhs. During the year 361 persons were insured and premia collected amounted to Rs. 1.99 lakhs. Cost of management during the year amounted to Rs. 34 lakhs and claims paid to Rs. 53 lakhs. The funds of these societies amounted to Rs. 9.56 lakhs.

All these societies with the exception of the Bengal Co-operative Insurance Society worked well. It has been decided recently to wind up the latter. Fortunately it has been possible to arrange that an Insurance Company will take over its business on terms which will save the policy holders and the creditors of the society from any serious loss.

Education Societies.—There were four education societies against three at the end of last year.

The Bongaon Muslim Education Society in the district of Jessore was registered during the year and with the small funds at its disposal had subsidised some Madrassas, High Schools and Primary Teachers' Association in the subdivision.

The Brahmanbaria Muslim Education Society and the Chandpur Muslim Education Society rendered useful service in the education of Muslim youths.

House Building Societies.—During the year under report no new house building society was registered. Their number remained 20. They had 446 members, paid-up share capital of Rs. 19 lakhs and a working capital of Rs. 1.16 lakhs of which Rs. 46 lakhs constituted borrowed capital. The house building movement is languishing. Some of the societies registered in Calcutta have not been able to secure plots required by members for building purposes. Others such as the Calcutta Suburban Co-operative Colony at Dum Dum and the Darjeeling House Building Society have erected houses in almost all the available plots and only an extension of their sphere of activities or the area of their operation can make them live societies again. Meantime, taken collectively, these societies are piling up losses. In 1939-40 the losses amounted to Rs. 7,541; in 1940-41 to Rs. 5,685.

The Charfessan House Building Society in Barisal suffered greatly from the cyclone. The houses of all the members were swept away. The Charbhedia Society, also in Barisal, has been reconstituted and the school building which was destroyed has been re-built.

Motor Transport Societies.—The number of these societies remained 3 as in the previous year, two in Howrah and one at Bhola.

The Howrah societies were organised to run buses within the Howrah Municipality and its suburbs. One of them failed to obtain the requisite licenses for running buses, the other was still endeavouring to raise the necessary share capital. The Bhola Motor Owners Association in the district of Bakarganj did not work well, most of the members having disposed of their cars.

PART IV—MISCELLANEOUS.

Liquidation.

The following tables indicate the progress of liquidation:—

(In Lakhs.)

Year	Of assets liquidated societies.	Liabilities met.		Audit fee paid.	Management cost.			Total disbursements.
		Central banks	Others.		Pay of establishment.	Other.	Total.
1939-40	1.87	1.31	.16	.10	.15	.20	.36	1.98*
1940-41	1.55	.98	.18	.10	.16	.17	.32	1.59*

* Excess of expenses over realisation met from cash balances in hand and by adjustment of suspense accounts.

(In lakhs.)

Year	Number liquidated during the year.	Number whose liquidation process began in year.	Total number of liquidated societies at the end of the year.	Total liabilities at the beginning of the year.		Total liabilities at the end of the year.
				Outside.	Other.	Outside.	Other.
1939-40	51	26	1,551	16.80	21.98	18.10	25.33
1940-41	110	51	1,611	18.10	25.33	50.51	29.09

It must be confessed that the progress of the recovery assets of the societies in liquidation was and always has been disappointing. Not only recoveries are poor and slow but a disproportionately large percentage of them—as much as 20 per cent. in 1940-41—is consumed by establishment and other costs.

The recent amendment of the Bengal Agricultural Debtors' Act bringing debts of liquidated societies within its purview has made the process of realising the dues more easy but dilatory for in many cases members obtain long instalments.

As in previous years societies and liquidators had to purchase properties of defaulters in certain cases during the course of execution proceedings. The properties are in most cases unremunerative and a source of embarrassment. The ownership of lands involves certain duties and responsibilities which the societies or the liquidators are not fitted to discharge.

The entire system of liquidation will have to be overhauled and proposals to this effect have recently been submitted to Government.

Co-operative Debt Settlement Boards.

The number of Co-operative Debt Settlement Boards was 106 during the year. The following statement will give some idea of the progress of debt settlement:—

(Figures in lakhs.)

Number of cases before the Boards at the beginning of the year.	Number of cases filed during the year.	Total number for settlement.	Number of cases rejected or withdrawn.	Number of cases settled.	Total number disposed of.	Number pending settlement at the end of the year.	Amount of original debts covered by the cases settled.	Amount awarded.
.43	.24	.67	.06	.08	.14	.53	25.26	18.61

Progress so far has been slow. Only a small fraction of the members of rural credit societies have yet applied, far too many cases have been dismissed, far too few settled. Departmental officers in charge of these Boards have, I fear, not devoted to this work the attention that it deserved, though the many difficulties inherent in this work have contributed to the slow progress in no small measure. The extreme importance of this work on which largely depends the rehabilitation of the Central Banks is now being brought home to all officers with, I am glad to say, distinctly better results. A pamphlet containing comprehensive instructions on the working of these Boards has been issued to all officers, to assist those who are now in charge of these Boards and prepare others for some 300 more Boards that we expect to set up in the near future. Government have already sanctioned one hundred new Boards to be set up within this financial year.

Defalcations.

The Perojpur Urban Bank defalcation case pending from the previous year ended in the conviction of the accused (Head Clerk). The accused (Head Clerk) in the Bhola Co-operative Town Bank defalcation case remained absconding.

A defalcation involving a sum of Rs. 30,000 in the Patiya Co-operative Urban Bank in Chittagong was detected which was under police investigation.

Several societies in the district of Dacca, viz., the Dacca Town Bank, Dacca District Teachers Society and the Jahangirnagar Traders Bank suffered from defalcations. In the case of the Dacca Town Bank the amount involved was about Rs. 65,000. The accused, the Secretary and the Cashier, are being prosecuted.

The Accountant of the Chandanbaisa Central Bank misappropriated Rs. 2,546 of the bank's money but the amount was recovered from him.

Co-operative Training and Education.

The scheme for the training and education of the staff and members of co operative societies out of the Government of India grant was continued during the year.

As in the previous year the teaching staff of the Co-operative Training Institute consisted of 2 Inspector Instructors and 4 Auditor-Instructors. An Incorporated Accountant and a Professor of Economic acted as part-time lecturers.

By the end of the year under review, all Auditors and most of the staff of the Central Banks had been trained. In March 1941 the training of the Secretaries of rural societies was taken up. For this purpose 20 peripatetic instructional units, each consisting of an Auditor and an Assistant Auditor selected from the rank of Supervisors, are now touring the districts and holding training classes at suitable centres. It is hoped that this training will be completed by March 1942.

A scheme has been submitted to Government which provides for making the Institute permanent, when the Government of India grant is withdrawn, for changing the system of recruitment and training of new recruits to the department and to service under the societies, for revision and simplification of the existing syllabus while lengthening the period of training and for periodical refresher courses for departmental officers and the staff of the Central Banks.

Government assistance to the movement.

Co-operative societies received various grants-in-aid and subsidies both from the Government of India and the Provincial Government.

The entire cost of running the Co-operative Training Institute at Dum Dum was met out of the Government of India grant as usual. During the year the cost amounted to Rs. 32,651.

The Government of India grant for the development of the handloom industry was received for the 6th year amounting to Rs. 55,453 for the year.

The grant from the Sugar Excise Fund of the Government of India for the organisation and development of co operative societies among sugarcane growers was received by the two sugarcane growers' unions at Gopalpur and Setabganj. The cost of their staff and other expenditure amounting to Rs. 9,877 during the year was so met.

The Bengal Provincial Bank received from the Provincial Government the 5th instalment of the annual grant of Rs. 2 lakhs to enable it wipe off losses it sustained on account of the defunct jute sale and supply societies. The salary of the Special Officer attached to the Bank was also met from Provincial revenues and amounted to Rs. 2,256 for the year. Recently Mr. R. N. Roy, I.S.O., retired Deputy Registrar, has been appointed to this post at a slightly increased salary.

Rupees 1,999 was received from the Provincial Government for distribution among 143 backward societies towards the cost of their clerical staff. Rupees 1,109 was similarly received for the establishment of a sale and credit society in the Chittagong Hill Tracts.

The Bengal Co-operative Alliance could not draw during the year the expected grant of Rs. 10,000, from the Provincial Government.

Official and non-official assistance.

The movement was fortunate in that it continued to secure the assistance of the District and Subdivisional Officers and non-officials in an abundant measure. It has unfortunately lost a veteran co operator in Rai Satyangshu Kumar Sinha Bahadur of Burdwan, who died towards the close of the year.

My thanks are due to all officers of the department and in particular to my Deputy Registrar Khan Bahadur Chaudhury Afsar Ali and Personal Assistant Rai Sahib Niranjan Mohon Bardhan who have had to work exceptionally hard under trying circumstances.
